It's been a big quarter.

In a recent visit to the Ho Chi Minh campus of RMIT Vietnam I experienced first hand both what a 'global experience' could be, and what it's like to be an international student in a foreign country. The campus itself is fantastic and it's heartening to know it will soon be forming its own student association, a development we'll be watching with keen interest and excitement.

RMIT has also released its Strategic Plan to 2015, and one of the key aspects of this document is its prioritisation of the Student Experience. We look forward to playing a constructive role in helping the University achieve its objectives, and also the chance to point out where it can improve and progress. It's encouraging to see RMIT prioritize this as an objective.

It's been a big quarter for us in terms of events and activities, we've piloted a new 'Drinks with Friends' event on Thursday afternoons at RMIT's new on campus café, Pearson and Murphy's, which has been a big success in bringing students together and giving them time to socialize and unwind. Our weekly BBQs have been growing bigger each week, and now engage many RMIT volunteers and students who want a quick feed or a drink. We've also held a very well attended Scavenger Hunt event, and a National DJ Competition which was won by an RMIT student.

The mid point of the year also marks a change in the Federal Senate, in which Greens senators will have the balance of power. There is finally a very real possibility that at least a partial repeal of Howard's VSU legislation can occur, and Universities can again join the benefits of a decent level of funding from students. RUSU's role as RMIT's representative student body will become increasingly relevant as students contribute more money towards student services, and we're ready for change if and when it occurs.

Space is still an ongoing issue for students, particularly on the Swanston st campus. We are excited about progress with the new Swanston Academic Building, and are glad to have been involved in the consultation process and hope that our feedback can lead to some good outcomes for the building and how the University uses its spaces more broadly.

This quarter has also seen the installation of new RMIT Chancellor Dr. Ziggy Switkowski, whom we welcome and hope will bring his strong expertise and professionalism into the role. We'd also like to thank the previous Pro Vice-Chancellor of Students Prof. Joyce Kirk for her dedicated work in the Student's Portfolio.

Thank you and I'm excited to see what the rest of 2011 brings.

Education and welfare

RUSU helps students 'Stress Less' in the lead up to exams

- Stress Less Week- May 23rd- 27th- In collaboration with the Compass Project our exam period Welfare campaign encouraged students to stay healthy, take breaks, seek support and stress less! Across 5 campuses RUSU gave away 4000 exam support calendars, 3000 stress balls, with fresh fruit, free yoga, mini massages and expert advice on support facilities and student rights.

- Free breakfasts feeding hundreds of students every Thursday on the City campus with healthy breakfast options including bagels and fruit served up by Welfare & Education student reps and volunteers
- Speak Up for Men's Health (planning for September). The Welfare and Education reps are busy planning a cross campus event to encourage young men to speak up and seek help around health issues, particularly mental health. It is well documented that men in particular are more likely to suffer from mental health issues and are also less likely to ask for help or seek support. We hope to see many of Melbourne's health organisations on campus for a festival of food and fun as well as education and awareness raising.

RMITV Student Television

6 productions & 2 pilots for RMITV this quarter-giving students hands on experience!

Productions

“Studio A” wrapped on the 25 April. The season was an absolute success and provided crew positions to over 40 RMITV members. ‘Studio A’ went out with a bang at the wrap party at Softbelly bar, where the cast and crew were able to celebrate their achievements for the season. A massive thank you must go to talented producer Amanda Reedy, who is leaving the show after three successful seasons.

“Tough Times Never Last” is halfway through shooting its 13 episode season. Involving up to 30 RMITV crew members, “Tough Times” operates on a rotating crew position basis, so each volunteer can experience every role in TV production. Thanks must go to producer Nicole Brown for her dedication in arranging training in various areas of production, which RMITV members have benefited from greatly.

“Fergus in Hell” is a 6 episode sitcom that is shot totally on location (outside of the studio) and involves up to 20 RMITV crew members. “Fergus in Hell” is nearing the end of its shooting period and is likely to air in September.

“Undergrads” is a 6 episode drama series that is also shot totally on location and involves up to 15 RMITV crew members. “In Pit Lane” is a 13 episode live motor sports news program. “In Pit Lane” will run through to July 2011. It is in its 17th year of production and is an extremely well oiled production and one in which new members are encouraged to participate in, as their first experience of live broadcasting. “In Pit Lane” involves up to 30 RMITV crew members.

“My Photography TV” has progressed from pilot stage to making a series. “My Photography TV” will cover the basic elements of stills photography over its season, and is an entertaining and informative program.

Pilots

“31 Questions” re-shot their pilot in June. “31 Questions” is a quiz show hosted by the charming David M. Green. Over 25 RMITV volunteers worked on “31 Questions” and we are hopeful they will proceed to a series.

“Bumper 2 Bumper” is a program for motor fanatics of all kinds and has recently submitted a pilot to us. The program was shot entirely on location and features an interesting range of vehicles.

Management Handover

In May 2011, Eliza Beck finished up as General Manager of RMITV. In her short time here Eliza secured funding for our edit suite upgrade, directed "Newline" and worked on "Studio A", amongst many other achievements.

Taking the reigns from Eliza is Ruth Sayers, who has stepped down from her role as secretary of the board to take on this task. Ruth has been a volunteer here at RMITV for the past 18 months, working on "Studio A", "The Inquiry" and "Destination 90's". Ruth can be contacted at manager@rmitv.org.

Board

On 15 June 2011, RMITV held its Annual General Meeting to appoint new members to the board of our incorporated association, Student Community Television. Over twenty people attended this meeting and appointments are as follows:

CHAIRPERSON: Amanda Reedy

SECRETARY: Rhys Tate

TREASURER: James Gormley

PUBLIC OFFICER: Ania Zamecznik

ORDINARY BOARD MEMBER: Brett Ramsey

We wish the new board the best and are confident they will do a fantastic job in overseeing governance of our incorporated body.

Training

We are currently working to get a range of training opportunities up and running for Semester 2, 2011, including workshops focusing on producing, directing and hosting for television. Training coordinator Nicole Brown has some great ideas for trainers to run these workshops and we are currently investigating the costs involved.

Coming Up This Month

In the coming month, RMITV will be looking to secure studio access for semester 2, 2011 and hire a new Studio A producer.

Ongoing Website Works

- Since transferring website to RMIT built server, issues with web forms not submitting (for example, to submit an event) have occurred. IT Fix deployed in June 2011.
- Aim to rework website branding to give a cleaner image with easier to navigate user interface. Also, looking to monetize site by using space for sponsorship.

This project produced a detailed and specific manual for International Student Officers including background research and campaign strategy and events 'how to'. This manual will hopefully be the first of many and will assist in the smooth transitioning between incoming and outgoing student reps. This project also delivered research into the capability and effectiveness of International Student Hotlines.

RUSU looks forward to continuing to establish relationships with quality initiatives and attempting to bridge gaps in International Student support and care.
- Work is currently underway on an online resource for new International Students.

The Compass Drop In Centre

The Compass Drop In Centre is a student initiative funded through the RMIT Union Reserve Project grants.

Drop-in's have remained high this quarter which is a good indication that Compass is becoming a well known part of student life here at the city campus. "Stress Less Week" was also a hit with students over all campuses accessing exam support and advice

Below is a quick breakdown of what Compass achieved in the second quarter for 2011:

- There have been 56 student drop-ins this quarter which is a little bit higher than last quarter. The most frequent issues continue to be housing, relationships and mental health, with work related issues (i.e.: resume's and interview skills) standing out as well.
- The Student Well Being Yoga Program continues with two classes running every week
- Men's Health Week is in the pipe line to be held in September. This week will involve numerous activities over two campuses' to promote men's health
- Compass is on the steering committee for "Stamping out Stigma" which is a student initiative designed to de- stigmatize mental health issues amongst the RMIT population. This program will run in October.

- Compass and RealFoods will be supervising a student placement next semester. The student will be responsible for the trial of a Healthy Food Cart in the Swanston St Library a couple of evenings per week
- “Stress Less Week” was held over all campuses in the lead up to SWOTVAC and exams. Thousands of students received fresh fruit, mini massages and most importantly study tips and tools on the back of a beautiful exam calendar. The feedback from students was really positive!!!
- An early intervention program to support students who are placed “at risk” by their schools is still underway
- Numerous referrals were made to external agencies that were appropriate to student need
- Compass Project officer’s position was made permanent this quarter which shows a wonderful commitment to Compass playing an ongoing roll at RMIT
- Compass Project officer undertook First Aid training and is now qualified. Security measures for Compass Centre implemented.

The third quarter of 2011 will see Compass volunteers undergoing professional training and starting their shifts in the drop in space. Work will continue on the early intervention program for at risk student and also on Men’s Mental Health Week. Above all however we hope to see Compass continue to cement itself as a central service for the RMIT student community.

Student Rights Activities

IMRU

The Queer Department exists to represent, advocate and empower all RMIT students who identify as gay, lesbian, bisexual, transgender, intersex, queer, or who are curious about or questioning their sexuality.

We maintain safe spaces known as Queer Lounges, which are confidential spaces for all queer-identifying students to visit, study, relax and meet other like minded individuals. We hold regular events at university and participate in campaigns on queer rights issues in the broader community.

The City Queer Lounge also holds weekly Queer Collective meetings. These meetings are held every Tuesday at 5:30pm. In these meetings, we will tell you about upcoming events and any issues that may come up as queer students.

If you'd like to get involved or just say hi, drop by a Queer Room or simply contact your friendly neighbourhood Queer Officers.

RMIT UNIVERSITY STUDENT UNION

“I really want to thank you for your help. Before meeting you, I have no ideal about student union or misunderstand student union. I am from a country where there is less human right than in Australia. I thought student union here like the student union in my country can not do anything in front of university. But I was wrong. You delivered very professional help to me and showed me I can argue I have student right even though I am just tiny tiny student in front of giant university. When things happened, I felt helpless. But now I do not feel it any more. I understand I have student union standing behind me and supporting me” . email from student rights case June 2011.

The Student Union has achieved the following outcomes through allocating funds to Student Rights Officers and Administration Coordinator including all salaries and associated employment costs:

- Individual casework and representation as detailed in tables below
- 261 new student rights cases assisted with expert advice across specific cases and hearings.
- Provided high quality verbal and published student rights advice and referral across our campuses
- 1 Student Rights Officer now based at Bundoora campus every Wednesday

“having a person that can help me through the process of writing the complaint has helped me heaps and has supported me emotionally... Thank you!” email to SRO

- Maintaining the student rights advice email service with increasing number of students contacting RUSU with student rights enquiries via our new website
- 'Grow a Heart RMIT' Campaigns underway - After numerous discussions with members of Policy Development, the ARG and the SPC, RUSU has continued to campaign for more reasonable and equitable policy and process surrounding special consideration, and disability standards and support. Our online campaign has received much support from RMIT students and generated interesting discussion. We look forward working with RMIT to improve standards for students who need support.
- Student representatives supported to sit on 59 student appeal and discipline hearing
- Coordination of student reps for university/college appeals and discipline board
- Maintained Student Rights Database and collected statistical information regarding student concerns
- Identified trends and issues emerging through case management

“It really meant a lot to have somebody in my corner during that really difficult period. It would have been really hard to go away and draft that letter myself. Three cheers for the student union! And to you!!” Email from student with enrolment issue

- Systemic, policy and procedures problems identified and addressed
- Student Rights Officer Caspar Cumming reappointed to National Vocational Education and Training Equity Advisory Council (NVEAC) for another two years.
- As part of NVEAV this quarter Caspar has contributed to advice for the federal government regarding contestability of VET funding, ways to better support disadvantaged students in VET, the way the performance of disadvantaged students in VET is measured and the benefits for the economy if disadvantaged students had outcomes through VET that were as successful as non-disadvantaged students.

Student Rights Communications

- Distributed Student Rights information provided through posters, leaflets and website information on key issues.
- Topical Student Rights Info Bulletins (e.g. Special Con points) sent out as part of RUSU members & friends E bulletin.
- New project focusing on increased use of website and YouTube clips on student rights issues underway in conjunction with RMITV volunteers who are filming the student rights clips.

Finance

Finance Overview

Grant Overview

Total University Grant for the quarter $425,636

Total Spending for the Quarter $440,114

Second Quarter Grant Overspent by $14,478

In first Quarter we Underspent Grant by $96,899. This means that we are carrying forward a 1st Quarter underspend of $82,421.

Carrying forward an underspend into the 3rd quarter will not be a problem given the following factors:

- While the finances show $34,401 in Clubs & Societies grants processed by 30 June, we know that $45,000 in grants have been awarded and that $10,500 in grants are awaiting processing for events held in this period (often pending student clubs submitting final receipts, attendance lists etc).
- Costs for students attending semester break conferences will appear in July/ August accounts.
- There is a huge program of student life campus events for semester 2, including World Week.
- Student elections costing around $40,000 will be held in the third quarter, increasing the Representation & Advocacy spending.
- Student representatives who are traditionally cautious in spending their department budgets in the first semester, gain confidence in planning and organising and spending on events come semester 2.
- There were some staff positions vacant for short period during the first and second quarter (e.g. clubs & societies, publications and communications). The staff costs for these in the final 2 quarters will normalise.

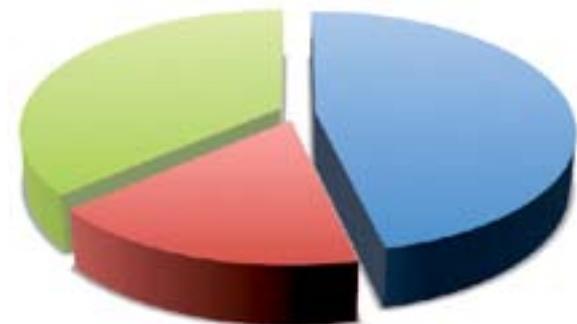

RMIT Union Reserve Project Grants

The RMIT Student Union also receives funding from RMIT Union Reserve Project Grants. While some of the activities funded through these grants (Compass Drop In Centre, Furniture Collective, O book, Bike Bank) are reported on in the narrative section of this quarterly report due to the overlap with other representative, advocacy, administrative, governance and publicity functions of the Student Union, direct expenditure on these projects is not included in the expenditure reported above. RMIT Union Reserve Projects Grants income and expenditure is reported on in a separate report as per the Deed Agreement.

Additionally we are committed to continuous improvement of our financial systems to ensure we both work within our budget provisions as agreed through our funding agreement and to satisfactorily achieve our annual audit of statutory accounts by a registered company auditor under the Corporations Act. We have no major transactions to formally report during this quarter.
