About the RUSU Elections

- RUSU runs free and fair elections based on the specific rules written in the RUSU Constitution & Regulations
- RUSU elections are run by an independent and impartial professional Returning Officer. In 2019 the Returning Officer is Matt Incerti.
- Voting at these elections will be by the optional preferential and optional proportional representation methods.
- If you want to vote, you don't have to vote for every position – just the ones you're interested in. You also don't need to vote for every candidate.
- For each position you want to vote on, give a "1" to the candidate you prefer, a "2" to your second choice if you have one and keep numbering candidates in order of preference as far as you like.
- Optional proportional representation will be the method of counting for those positions where more than one candidate is to be elected. This will be the elections for General Representatives and NUS delegates which are proportionally elected (like the Senate). All other positions have a single winner.
